Bonus Cuts Available On Both
Compact Disc and Cassette

This release marks the first time Party Girls/Broken Poets has ever been available anywhere in the world on compact disc. The album has been digitally remastered directly from Elliott's original two track masters.

Both the CD and cassette feature brand new artwork, song lyrics and new liner notes by Elliott reflecting upon the recording of the album along with his memories and thoughts on the songs and musicians.

Both the CD and cassette include two unreleased bonus tracks which have never been available anywhere in the world in any form. Elliott calls 'In A Minute' a Fela Kuti influenced spiritual-dance track. 'Everybody Knows' is the original, early (and much different) version of 'Niagara Falls', a song which appeared on a later album.

With Ernie Brooks on bass
Tony Machine on drums
& Richard Sohl on keyboards

Special guest appearances by David Johansen &
Brian Ritchie (of Violent Femmes)

"Of all the sensitive singer-songwriters who've borne the career-killing weight of the 'new Dylan' mantle—Eric Andersen, Steve Forbert and Willie Nile among them—Elliott Murphy is perhaps the poetic-folk-rocker who's carried it with the most grace and the least notoriety."

Elliott Murphy

"Working within the basic rock song structure, Elliott excels at constructing images of romantic power by blending lyrical and musical elements of desire, danger, fatalism, heroism and ironic detachment."

Mark Rosenblatt
Hi Fidelity

"Since Elliott Murphy and his work will be with us as long as we have rock & roll, I suggest we play it now."

"Murphy has raised the ante so high on his unique folk-rock fusions that he's now residing in the special zone known as sheer genius."

Jon Marlow

"Elliott Murphy is everything Bruce Springsteen is supposed to be, everything Ian Hunter tried to be and almost everything Lou Reed and Bob Dylan ever were."
